Scientific rationale

The 2nd Unit of the National EUS Training Course 2011-2012, IEC/SIED, for doctors and nurses is an advanced course that puts together a theoretical training with experts lectures and up-to date and a practical training with more than 8 hours of live demonstrations. Learners will have the possibility of directly and continuously interact with the experts. The aim is to give advanced theoretical and practical information to gastroenterologists, surgeons, endoscopists and nurses, already working in the field of advanced endoscopy, mainly diagnostic and therapeutic interventional EUS and biliary operative endoscopy. We would like to present and discuss with the audience the most modern views about a new model of operative bilio-pancreatic endoscopic suite: EUS and ERCP technologies are complementary and their integrated use can give us a lot of new both diagnostic and therapeutic capabilities in biliopancreatic diseases. Learners will acquire practical and theoretical information about indications of EUS and ERCP, how to perform them and the new diagnostic and therapeutic possibilities offered by the integration of EUS and ERCP, that is the new concept of EURCP."
